Kim is rocking a 10 carat diamond ring and HollywoodLife.com can tell you that Kanye dropped some serious cash on the bling — read on to get the full scoop!

Kim Kardashian is one lucky girl. The reality star stepped out wearing a gorgeous rock and now HollywoodLife.com can tell you all about this beautiful stone fit for the reality TV queen.

"The center stone looks like a 10ct oval shape diamond of high quality," Anthony Sarkissian of Premier Jewelry Lenders in Beverly Hills tells us. "The platinum ring also has one row of pave set diamonds on either side on the band. Depending on the quality of the center diamond, the ring could be valued anywhere from $500,000-$1,000,000."

Wow, now that's one heck of a rock! But it still doesn't compare to Kim's ring from Kris Humphries which was a 20.5-carat diamond ring that was estimated to be worth $2 million.
